
Pay-per-execution uses target prompt tokens as a proxy; these include a fixed system prompt.